Those candidates who are serious about becoming a N.J. State Corrections Officer Recruit must fully prepare for the upcoming Law Enforcement Aptitude Battery (LEAB). The LEAB is a very competitive and challenging exam made even more difficult by the scoring to one hundredth of a point (.010) which ultimately separates one candidate from the next. While a 92.000 is an "A" in an academic institution, a 92.000 on the LEAB will mean that a significant number of other candidates will be ranked higher on the New Jersey Civil Service Commission NJDOC hiring list. Whether another candidate's score is a 92.010 or a 99.990, that other candidate will be distinctly higher on the list of eligibles. Therefore, an

"A" is not good enough on the competitive LEAB. High quality preparation is the key to success on the LEAB. That is why Dr. Paprota strongly and sincerely recommends the CCS New Jersey State Corrections Officer Recruit Exam Preparation Seminar to those who truly desire to become a professional State Correction Officer Recruit in New Jersey.

The Critical Concepts and Strategies (CCS) N.J. State Corrections Officer Recruit Exam Preparation Seminars consist of two, full-day sessions scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the weekend, or students may attend a three-evening seminar conveniently scheduled from 5 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on select weekday evenings. The classes are purposely set to meet the varying schedules of our students.

All of the seminars are scheduled in the most convenient locations along the Garden State Parkway (GSP). Currently, classes are scheduled in Tinton Falls (Monmouth County) and Totowa (Passaic County). Each site was purposely selected for your convenience, as the sites are within 2.5 miles of the GSP with ready access from both the north and south. For those candidates from other counties, past history has clearly demonstrated that it is well worth the travel to attend Dr. Paprota's seminars.

Many students find that the week-long break between evening sessions is a great personal benefit while other students rely on the convenience of the full-day sessions on a single weekend. Students who attend CCS seminars quickly recognize the advantage CCS provides in every aspect of the course design and delivery. CCS has raised the bar to heights others won't even attempt to match.

Critical Concepts & Strategies (CCS) - Instructors

Dr. David A. Paprota is recognized as the foremost authority in entry level exam preparation in the State of New Jersey. Having trained over 15,000 law enforcement candidates and incumbents for their respective civil service exams over the past 23 years, Dr. Paprota possesses not only the formal educational credentials, but also the experience beyond anyone else currently in the field. Dr. Paprota's educational research has centered on three-factor psychometric testing, which is exactly the type of examination being administered for the New Jersey State Correction Officer Recruit Examination. Dr. Paprota has served as an adjunct professor at Seton Hall University; developed a graduate level course currently utilized as part of the curriculum for a Master's of Arts degree at Seton Hall University; and currently serves as a decorated Chief of Police in New Jersey. Candidates who strive to achieve the highest score possible on their examination have been seeking out and traveling to Dr. David Paprota for over two decades.

The New Jersey Civil Service Commission (NJCS) is utilizing the Law Enforcement Aptitude Battery (LEAB) for the 2015 New Jersey State Correction Officer Recruit Examination. This is the exact examination that has served as the foundation for much of Dr. Paprota's research over the past 15 years.
